MILLERS WIN BY COURT DECISION BLEACHED FLOUR CASE IS SENT BACK

Holds 'Bleaching' Process Is
Not Injurious to Health
of Consumers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Millers and food manufacturers throughout the country can add chlorine to the government's flour when the state supreme court held that federal inspectors will not condemn under the pure food law bleached flour unless they prove that the flour contains enough poisonous ingredients added in bleaching to make the flour injurious to health.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture have fought the use, but still contending that the adding of any quantity of poisonous ingredients in violation of the law.

The case decided today originated in the district court of western Missouri.
The government sought to condemn 62 sacks of flour bleached by the Lexington Mills company by the so-called bleaching process.

Court Sustains Millers.

The government claimed that in bleaching the flour to give it a pale color it inadvertently certain nutrients or poisonous ingredients were added and that this violated the law, no matter what the quantity. The district court so held and the jury condemned the flour. The eighth circuit court of appeals held the district court erred and so did the supreme court today.

In announcing the decision of the court Justice Day pointed out that the government only complained that 1.8 parts to 100,000 of poisonous character was added by bleaching. He held that every word of the pure food law prohibiting interstate commerce of food if it contained any added poisons or other added deleterious ingredients which may render such article injurious to health, must be given its true meaning.

Little Poison Not Injurious.

If it cannot be the possibility when the facts are reasonably considered injure the health of any consumer said the Justice, such flour though having a small addition of poisonous or deleterious ingredients may not be condemned as the act.

The principal effect of today's decision officials say would be to require much more expert testimony in federal courts over who the government prosecutes for violation of the pure food law and consequently, the winning of a much smaller percentage of suits.

GERMAN EXPLAINS MANILA INCIDENTS

Takes Issue With Admiral
Dewey on Letter's Book
Describing Battle

BADEN-BADEN, Germany, Feb. 24.—The controversy over the trial trial between the American and German admirals in Manila bay at the time of the Spanish-American war, which has been revived by the narrative of Admiral Dewey recently published, was made the subject of a statement to the Associated Press today by Admiral von Drejach, the leader of the German warships.

Admiral Drejach is attributed the troubles here in the Germans and Americans largely to mischievous reports in the English papers in China and the absence of definite regulations giving the big kide and the movement of foreign ships. He indicated however, that a latent mistrust was responsible.

He also declared, after talking with and interviewing Admiral Dewey from the beginning, that the American admiral, in his opinion, did not deserve the severe punishment meted him by the Spanish.

Admiral Drejach said that the Spanish admiral, in his opinion, was not to blame for the Spanish losses in the battle, but that the American admiral was to blame.

The German admiral said that the Spanish admiral was to blame for the Spanish losses in the battle.

PLAYED AMERICAN ANTHEM.

The German admiral, in his opinion, was to blame for the Spanish losses in the battle.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 24.—Mrs. J.
Farrar, a 120-pound woman from New York, who is engaged in a heavyweight fight between the police and miners, arrested the fighters and took them to the police station. The two sumitted weekly when the police came in and took the fighters and the crowd cheered Mrs. Farrar.

MINE OWNERS BEGIN CASE

Witnesses Called to Refute Charges of Peonage Made by Strikers

TRINIDAD, Colo., Feb. 24.—The United Mine Workers of America met today closed their case to the the Federal sessions of the federal investigation of the Colorado coal miners strike are on trial. Introduction of testimonies in behalf of the mine operators
began in the night session.

The closing of the miners' case at the end of the day, a dispute of several hours, was opened to the the miners' strike. The night session began with the introduction of testimonies in behalf of the mine operators
began in the night session.

Ask for 'Mother' Jones.

Just before the strikers announced that their testimony was finished, E. P.
Curtis introduced Judge H. G. Lunt who briefly outlined the work before the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year. Aside from mentioning the necessity for tax improvement and park extension, Mr. Lunt spoke at some length on the need of the city establishing public playgrounds for children. From the nods of approval of the audience, he is about to be summoned.

Many Express Appreciation.

The speakers were many and the banquet elaborate. The business part of the meeting was doomed to insignificance, the major share of attention being given to the man who is soon to leave this city. At the close of the meeting scores of men came to the speakers' table and shook Mr.
Hill's hand, wishing him godspeed in the arduous task he is about to become to which he has been called.

Mayor Gives Hill's Record.

Mayor McPherson, in his speech summarized the civic service rendered by Mr. Hill to Colorado Springs and told of his record since coming here 21 years ago. The mayor said:

MILLERS WIN BY COURT DECISION

'BLEACHED FLOUR' CASE IS SENT BACK

Holds "Bleaching" Process Is
Not Injurious to Health
of Consumers

WASH., Feb. 24.—Millers and food manufacturers throughout the country won a decisive victory over the government today when the supreme court held that federal inspectors could not condemn, under the pure food law, "bleached flour" unless they proved that the flour contained enough poisonous ingredients added in bleaching to make the flour injurious to health.

Officials of the department of agriculture have fought the case bitterly, contending that the adding of any quantity of poisonous ingredients was in violation of the law.

The case decided today originated in the district court of western Missouri. The government sought to condemn 255 sacks of flour "bleached" by the Lexington Mills company by the so-called "bleach process."

Court Upholds Millers.

The government claimed that in bleaching the flour to give it a color to hide its inferiority certain nitrates, or poisonous ingredients, were added and that this violated the law no matter what the quantity. The district court so held and the jury condemned the flour. The eighth circuit court of appeals held the district court erred and so did the supreme court today.

In announcing the decision of the court, Justice Day pointed out that the government only complained that 18 parts to 1,000,000 of a poisonous character was added by bleaching. He held that every word of the pure food law prohibiting, in interstate commerce, food if it contained any added poisonous or deleterious ingredient which may render such article injurious to health, must be given its true meaning.

Little Poison Not Injurious.
If it cannot be any possibility, when the facts are reasonably considered, injure the health of an consumer," said the Justice, "such flour, though having a small addition of poisonous or deleterious ingredient, may not be condemned by the act."

The principal effect of today's decision, officials say, would be to re-open which state pure food law in St. Louis' city and the government, protracted for violation of the pure food law, and consequently the winning of a much smaller percentage of suits.

Takes Issue With Admiral Dewey on Letter's Book Describing Battle

BADEN-BADEN, Germany, Feb. 24.—The controversy over the friction between the American and German admirals in Manila bay at the time of the Spanish-American war, which has been revived by the narrative of Admiral Dewey, recently published, was made the subject of a statement to the Associated Press today by Admiral von Diederichs, commander of the German warships.

Admiral von Diederichs attributed the troubles between the Germans and Americans largely to malicious reports in the English papers in China and the absence of definite regulations governing the blockade and the movement of foreign ships. He indicated however, that a latent mistrust was responsible in a measure.

He was desirous of cooperating with and supporting Admiral Dewey from the beginning, he said, but the American admiral's fondness for Captain Chichester in command of the British fleet, and the time Admiral Dewey spent with the British officers kept him from seeing as much of Admiral Dewey as he would have wished.

MINERS VOTED AS DIRECTED BY OPERATORS

Strike Investigators Delve Into Political Conditions of State

Witnesses Called to Refute Charges of Peonage Made by Strikers

TRINIDAD, Feb. 24.—The United Mine Workers of America late today closed their case so far as the Trinidad sessions of the federal investigation of the Colorado coal miners strike are concerned. Introduction of testimony in behalf of the mine operators began at the night session.

The closing of the miners case came at the end of a day of dramatic developments. Testimony relative to alleged political corruption in Las Animas and Huerfano counties was presented, after a bitter two hours fight between attorneys for the strikers and the mine owners. Throughout most of the day the situation was tense, and frequent sharp alterations enhanced the proceedings. Charges of political and personal motives in the presentation of testimony were freely made and hotly denied.

Ask for "Mother" Jones.

Just before the strikers announced that their testimony was finished, E. P. Costigan renewed the request for the presence of "Mother" Mary Jones in court as a witness.

The committee will consider that matter and give a decision at a later date, ruled Chairman Postel.

Testimony in support of charges made by the miners that elections in Las Animas and Huerfano counties have been influenced by the operators was given by W. A. Garner, Dr. Ben B. Beshore and J. L. Virgil. The examination of Garner was brief. He testified that he believed there had been "interference" by the mine companies.

Cites Election Returns.

He cited election returns in support of his intimation that whole mining camps were sold by the companies to the candidates they wished to see elected. He declared that he simply had been ordered out of a polling place when he tried to act as watcher and challenger by a mine superintendent who later testified that he didn't like his looks. On cross-examination, Dr. Beshore admitted that there was a controversy over his legal right to act in the capacity in which he had entered the polling place.

Mr. Virgil, recently appointed postmaster at Trinidad, testified that he had lived in Los Animas county since 1878. He made numerous charges of political corruption declaring however, that he believed conditions were much improved in the election of 1912.

Refused to Deliver Mail.

The witness was questioned regarding the nondelivery of mail to "Mother" Jones since the incarceration of the latter as a military prisoner.

President Has to Give His Name to Capital Doorkeeper

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—President Wilson took a long, brisk walk through the snow-covered streets of the capital today. Few people recognized him as he swam along rapidly through the crowds on the principal business thoroughfares.

On his route to the White house, the president determined to take a short cut through the long corridor of the interior department. At the entrance he was confronted with a sign: "No visitors." Admitted. After 2 P. M. When the president opened the door an aged doorkeeper stepped forward and announced that the intruder finally asked.

"Well, what do you want?"

Tom McWoodson Wilson, answered the president with a smile.

"Well, well, said the doorkeeper seriously. I thought you'd look familiar."

The entrance of the German squadron in Manila has to which Admiral Dewey object was due according to Admiral von Diederichs he is a punctilious captain of the British.

He believed German officers at Manila would be adequately proected by the small cruisers Irene and Cormoran and planned to concentrate the balance of his squadron at Tsingtau. The emperor however sent a cable message to him to proceed to Manila and assume personal charge.

No Mail Steamer Available.

No mail steamer was available and the flagship Kaiser, a first class cruiser, was undergoing repairs at Nagasaki. An Admiral von Diederichs and Flag Lieut. von Hintze, not minister cheered Mrs. Nester.

CITY'S PROMINENT MEN EXPRESS REGRET AT HALL'S DEPARTURE

Interstate Commerce Appointee Honor Guest at Big Banquet; Leaves Today on Ocean Trip Before Going to Washington

This is a m. long, and though my work may require that I spend much time in Washington, I shall spend two months of each year in Colorado Springs. From my incoming orifice of my personal I am leaving on a sea voyage before taking up further duties. Therefore, I wish to bid you all good-bye now and thank you for the great honor you have done me this evening.

With the speech of Judge Lunt the business side of the meeting was waived only upon the regret at Mr. Hall's leaving and extolled his many sterling qualities and his sacrifices for his service. Mayor McKeon, W. H. Spurgeon, President W. F. Shoom, and George W. Martin, chairman of the All-Colorado committee spoke in high terms of Mr. Hall. During the evening the following resolutions presented by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce were unanimously adopted by the assembly.

WHEREAS, Henry Clay Hall, newly appointed member of the interstate commerce commission, thus closed his remarks of gratitude expressed to the members of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce and their friends who last night gathered at the Antlers for their fourth annual dinner and to honor Mr. Hall who long has been an active member and director of the organization. The affair was informal throughout and gave opportunity for the many men long associated with the guest of honor to express their sincere regard for him and his high abilities.

SENATE MAY DEMAND DATA FROM BRYAN

Mr. Vinton (See Page One)
designed some time ago but no information about his whereabouts or the expected execution had been received.

Cabinet officers indicated that of the 100 judgments on the Benton incident it would not be until the 100th of the water of the American investigation was officially known here until the publication of dispatches from the American's office to the British ambassador. The 100th of the United States had indicated its arrival to the body. Vinton was examined to the very legal and exact way. Vinton indicated the far-seeing nature of the body.

In addition to this, Secretary Bryan had a communication had been exchanged for presentation to the Constitutionalists under the 100th of the Senate denied that this took the form of any general representations about foreigners, saying it was confined to the Benton incident. Crux of Situation.

Upon receipt of information from Carroll and the progress of the investigation at Juarez, both by the American Consul and the British consul at the developments of the next days were to bring in some quarters the sending of a communication to Carroll about Villa's act was as far as involving a technical recognition of Carroll's jurisdiction over

Villa. But Vinton, Bryan tonight stated definitely that he regarded today's proceedings as similar to others which previously have been presented by American consuls to Carroll and de facto authorities in Mexico. Defuge with the de facto officers in the north, Mr. Bryan regards as no different from the official relations at Mexico City with the unrecognized

Huerta government.

Secretary Bryan did not know tonight when the body of Benton would be given up by Villa. All the information he had, he said, came in a telegram from Consular Agent George C.

Carroll at Juarez, who said General Villa had telephoned him his willingness to give up the body, but not at this time. Villa also said he would make an additional statement about the execution of Benton.

Autopsy Suggested.

Incidentally, the British ambassador telephoned Mrs. Benton that if the body is produced by the Constitutionalists and it is probable that it immediately will be turned over to the United States should immediately have an American examine it. Army surgeons here say the condition of the wounds will establish at once whether

Benton was killed by a firing squad or by a pistol shot. These surgeons say it would not be possible successfully to conceal a murder by afterwards dashing rifle bullets into a body because of the radical difference in the way it is inflicted upon a living person and a corpse.

POLICE PICK UP MARSHALL FOR INVESTIGATION TODAY

Said to have attempted the life of his sweetheart, Miss Grace-Brennan, 113 West Fountain street, Ira Marshall, aged 23, living at 502 South Tenth street, was arrested by the police late last night. He was in an intoxicated condition when arrested and could give no explanation of his actions.

According to the police, Marshall and Miss Brennan had attended a theater and returned to the young woman's home. Marshall asked her to accompany him to his home and when they had reached there, he is said to have drawn a revolver from his pocket and said that he would shoot. The girl, according to the officers, took the weapon away from Marshall. The affair occurred shortly after 3 o'clock last night and Marshall succeeded in eluding the officers until midnight when he went back to his home and retired. He was arrested there.

To Mexico sailed on the protected steamer Kaiser Augusta for Manila, arriving there about the middle of June. There was no room on the Kaiser Augusta for the admiral's staff and the Kaiser was compelled to follow with the staff aboard. Mildly but very decidedly, Admiral von Dewettis declared the account of the incidents as related in the autobiography contains many errors which he attributed probably to defective memory of the events or to misinformation obtained from subordinates. He expressed regret that the Manila affair had been taken out of oblivion, hoping that the misunderstandings had been smoothed over. He and Admiral Dewey were friends and had exchanged visits, letters and gifts.

Admiral Dewey Stands Pat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Admiral Dewey remained silent today in regard to the agitation created in Germany by the publication of his memoirs. He rests upon the statement that in the introduction of his work that while for the most part the record was based upon personal recollection in the case of all of the circumstances connected with the battle of Manila his statements were based upon official reports compiled at the time and hence of unquestionable accuracy.

It is believed by the admiral that a wrong impression has been created in Germany as to his comments upon the action of the German naval officers at Manila by reason of the memoirs and unduly condensed extracts from his book.

In many circles today it was pointed out that with Dewey at Manila a mere recent publication by one of Dewey's staff officers, Rear Admiral Prudley A. Pusey, side by side upon official reports compiled at the time and hence of unquestionable accuracy.

Ants of the house were present yesterday when sounds were heard from the window to investigate. It was difficult to distinguish their appearance, but one of them wore a long, overcoat and stiff black hat, but he was not found out at an early morning had not apprehended him.

THREE SHOTS AT FLEEING BURGLARS

burglars attempted to enter the home of W. W. Bumpus at 36 West street shortly after midnight. The burglar was discovered by Mr. Bumpus who was opening the kitchen door. Simpson fired three shots at the men with a revolver as they fled over a rear fence.

U. S. CONSIDER UNABLE TO LOCATE BAUCH

Villa Explains Why He Refuses to Give Up Benton Remains

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 24.—General Villa's refusal to give up the body of William S. Benton around indefinitely here but his reason for the refusal conveyed in a private telegram intensified the feeling. This reason is given as, "I will not give up the body out of respect to the dead. It was interred with all religious observances and a cross erected over it and I will not allow the sacrifice of its removal."

This word came in response to a telegram sent by one of his subordinates at Juarez informing him that no capsule should keep him from permitting the transfer of the body to the widow and informing him that perhaps he was not familiar with the storm of criticism which had greeted his failure to do so.

A definite refusal to give up the body was received by a consular representative of the United States this afternoon and forwarded to Washington. The explanation came to Juarez.

Villa Fears Exposure.

Americans on this side accept the refusal as definite assurance that Benton was shot by Villa and that he fears to deliver the body, the condition of which they assert, would indicate the farcical nature of the official statement that there was a court-martial.

Mexicans dining hilariously on this side today remarked sarcastically: "Benton was shot and then court-martialed."

Evidence is accumulating to this effect, but is not yet in shape for definite announcement. It is hoped that within a day or two the statement of a competent witness to the shooting alleged to have occurred in Villa's headquarters may be obtained. Americans and representatives of the Mexican federal government are working to this end.

No Ground for Charges.

Villa's statement, telegraphed from Chihuahua today, that Benton was guilty of four murders, and making a charge of cattle stealing, was received by Benton's friends with derision. Three of them who knew Benton intimately were asked if there was any basis, however faint, for the charges, and answered in the negative. They declared that no charge of the sort ever had been brought against the Scotchman, and that the court records at Chihuahua, unless falsified to suit the need of the hour, would fail to show that any charges of criminal nature ever had been brought against Benton.

Secret service men in the employ of the United States government today received information, which was not divulged, that indicated Gustav Bauch has met a fate similar to Benton's.

Villa has given out official statements and interviews on the subject which conflict. Thomas D. Edwards, consul at Juarez, has been repeatedly assured that Bauch was safe in Chihuahua awaiting a review of his case where in he is charged with being a spy.

Can't Locate Bauch.

Meanwhile Marion Letcher, consul at Chihuahua, after a search of the jails and barracks and diligent inquiry has been unable to find him, and Villa last night in an interview asserted to newspaper men that he never brought the German-American from Juarez at all.

It was with similar statements that Villa warded off inquirers as to the fate of Benton and it was three days before definite assurance of the latter's death was received by Consul Edwards.

Word was received that the 18 rejected American recruits would be put on a train at Chihuahua and sent to Juarez.

Rumors which could not be confirmed today had it that Villa was considering the confiscation of the property of Americans and other foreigners who attended the main meeting here last Friday night to protest against the so-called execution of Benton.

THE OPTIMISTIC REDFIELD

MUCH of the optimism of Secretary Redfield, as expressed in his Wheeling speech, is justified. The number of unemployed is growing less, mills are being opened, the number of idle freight cars is being diminished, the stock and bond market is looking up. But when Secretary Redfield attributes to the new tariff law and to the currency bill the major credit for this state of affairs, he is as far from the truth as those Republicans who have insisted that these measures were entirely responsible for the slump in business.

As a matter of fact, there has been a world-wide stringency in money, the causes of which it is not here necessary to state. That stringency has now been relieved. In European nations money is now cheaper than it has been in many months. And, that being true, America is beginning to feel the effects. Business began picking up in Europe before it did in the United States.

Of course, the new tariff bill, and especially the currency bill, have had some effect in inducing this world-wide revival in business, but their effect has been relatively very small. The settlement of the trust question in the United States will help, perhaps, still more. But the great cause is that the world-wide period of liquidation has about ended, and money for investment purposes is again to be had on reasonable terms.

And as to the secretary's reduction in the cost of living, that is something that has not yet happened. The cost index goes up and down constantly, but only a Democrat could say that it is now definitely and finally headed downward. It is true that the cost of living, as measured by the New York Times Annalist index number, is now slightly under what it was on January 1. But it is higher right now than it was a year ago, before we had free trade in food products.

Hence Mr. Redfield is entirely too optimistic in announcing that we now have a reduced cost of living. If, at the end of the year, the index is appreciably under the present figure, then there will be some reason for believing that an actual reduction has been secured. But to make that prediction while the index number is still higher than it was a year ago is, to put it mildly, asking a little too much of credulity.

Business is better. The Democrats have not ruined industry, as the Republicans predicted. But neither have they been solely, or even largely, responsible for the present improvement in conditions, which Mr. Redfield and other partisans attribute solely to the enactment of the Wilson legislative program.

PROGRESSIVES AND PROHIBITION

Is the Progressive party to be a prohibition party? Certain signs indicate that it is at least heading in that direction.

Ohio was the first state where the Progressives seriously considered the question. The 1914 Ohio platform adopts the Anti-Saloon League position in state affairs, and declares for national regulation as the final solution of the liquor problem.

Pennsylvania was next, and the party in the Keystone state came out strongly in favor of local option, which is the issue that will be voted on there this fall.

Followed Kansas, and Kansas, of course, went farther than any. Kansas Progressives flat-footedly declared themselves in favor of the national prohibition amendment and Victor Murdock for senator and Henry J. Allen for governor are campaigning on this issue, among others.

But the news that Theodore Douglas Robinson, chairman of the New York Progressives, has gone to Spain to consult with Colonel Roosevelt on the prohibition question, on the colonel's return from South America, is perhaps most significant of all. The Anti-Saloon League now has a county option bill before the New York legislature, and according to the New York Evening Post there is a strong and increasing sentiment among Progressives that they should "fix this bill."

The liquor question is becoming more and more a social issue. It is perhaps natural, therefore, that the Progressive party, which is the first party nationally to take up the consideration of social questions, should be forced to take a stand on the liquor question. Thousands of church people were attracted to the Progressive party, because of its stand for social justice, and these people are practically all against the saloon. And they are pointing out that the saloon is one of the biggest of all social questions, and as such must be considered by the Progressive party.

Certain it is that, at present, the tendency in the Progressive party on the liquor question is all in one direction. And that is for the restriction of the power of the saloon, if not for the immediate national prohibition which Kansas Progressives have demanded.

THE MODERN BABEL

NEW YORK is often spoken of as the most cosmopolitan city on the globe, with more Jews than Jerusalem, more Italians than Naples, more Irish than Dublin, and more Germans than Hamburg. These comparisons may not be accurate, but they express fairly well the heterogeneous nature of the population. However, exact statistics are given in a bulletin just published by the Census Bureau which classified the population of New York City according to the mother tongue, by which is meant the native language, or that spoken before immigration. The figures relate both to the foreign-born white and to the second generation of foreign stock.

It appears that English is the mother tongue of only 21 per cent of the total white population of 4,669,162. Yiddish and Hebrew come next with 19 per cent, German 18 per cent, and Italian 12 per cent. There are 861,980 people in New York City whose mother tongue is Yiddish or Hebrew. On Manhattan Island almost exactly one-fourth of the total population, or 533,444, speak that language.

Such figures as these help one to realize the magnitude of the immigration problem. If the million and a quarter Europeans who land at Ellis Island yearly would scatter over the country and engage in diversified pursuits, especially agriculture, it would be a simpler matter, but unfortunately the most of them remain permanently in New York and other large Eastern cities. The spectacle inspires wonderment as to how long the nation will be able to continue assimilating such an enormous mass of raw material.

THE SOCIAL STRUGGLE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
The railway companies, almost without exception, and practically all the great business organizations in America, are so steeped in rascality that the least Justice they receive from the courts, the legislatures, or the people, brings to the surface a rottenness that almost paralyzes the divine in the human.

Through the guiding words of Bryan and Roosevelt and Wilson and Johnson and Vincent and Griffith and Costigan, the people are awaking to the realities; and even the state legislatures (the late stronghold of flunkies, of graft, of pilage and of golden-calf worship), in spite of the holier-than-thou Democratic and Republican stampfathers and the sanctified calf-worshippers in our churches are beginning to set up, listen for the voice of the masses and to take notice.

Fetid business is spending millions on millions of dollars on artificial perfumes, (note the Hartford & New Haven railroad, the Denver Water company, etc.), to confuse the honest sense of the people as to the source of the stench. Not long can this kind of business control the legislatures.

Its last hope now lies in pigeon-headed and purchased governors and in the control of the courts. The chief reliance is in controlling the courts. This accounts for the opposition to the recall of judges and for all the nonsense, about the sacredness of the courts and the efforts to defile the courts, in the hearts of the people. Note on the courts that twist the law in the interest of privilege and capital and to the detriment of labor—to the enslavement of children, women and men.

Let the sacredness of the courts, as tools of privilege and capital, become a by-word; and let us have servants of the people on the bench to deal out morality as well as legally human justice.

Then perhaps we will have in the government a few less Ruthless and Ammonites and Heretics to throttle the laborers to crush out free speech and to protect the bandit operators—a few more Muggers and Scotts, with the love of fairplay and justice in their heart, to stay the military hand crushing an aged woman, who lived to the death her fellow men.

ALIMONY

BY GEORGE FLEM

Author of "At Dead Old Sleuth."

Alimony is the price, payable in installments, that a man pays for losing his wife.

Alimony is a very irritating affair to an ex-husband, who usually has to save something for the first time in his life in order to pay it. And it is no joke for the ex-wife either. Alimony is usually about half enough to live on and has to be extracted from the unwilling payer by thumb-screws and bench warrants, etc.

Some women are such good financiers that they can get rid of a bad husband and obtain $1,000 a month all at the same time. This is like losing a bad case of indigestion and finding a gold mine. But, as a rule, a wife who has been living for some years at the rate of $80 a year has to cut down her bills to fit $80 a month alimony.

And out of said alimony she usually supports the children.

Of course, the husband would like to support the children, but how could he do it with only $4,800 a year?

We are a chivalrous nation and are forever giving up our seats in street cars to women. But when we reorganize a marriage into its component parts we usually decide that $80 a month is luxury for the wife and children. And that $80 a month is barely enough to allow the husband and father to get married again and start a new bunch of sorrow and disappointment. Perhaps it was worked in the other way and gave the wife the inflated and the income other women would not smile so kindly upon the imitation husband and marry him with such recklessness and fond expectation.

In Regard to Profanity

BY RUTH CAMERON

There are a great many faults and bad habits which I possess.

There are others which, for lack of temptation or some similar reason, I don't happen to possess.

But there are some failings, vices, weaknesses—all them what you will—that I simply cannot understand.

And chief among these is profanity:

Drunkenness is a terrible vice but it often has the excuse, or rather the explanation, of a terrible temptation.

The crimes of passion and hate are fearful things but we know that those who commit them are usually under the influence of emotions so strong that their sanity is unbroken by them.

The gambler, the outlaw thief, the thief within the law who barter honor for money and power—the sin of these and many more like them I can at least understand, but the man who makes a habit of trailing sacred names through the dust merely to emphasize his speech and give an outlet to his annoyance—well he is completely beyond my understanding.

A man who would dishonor his country's flag would be a pariah to all decent men. To my mind, the man who dishonors the symbols of his country's flag is not his own—religion is just as deserving of contempt.

But I can't make myself emphatic enough without profanity—some business man protests. Shame on you! What an acknowledgement! You mean there isn't enough human pure force in your character to make it felt in your voice. You must shock your way into people's consciousness by the words you use.

I once knew an editor who had remarkable control of his staff. Note in the most trying moments—and if any business could present more trying moments than a newspaper office, I'd hate to be connected with it—did he ever use a word of profanity. Instead of dissipating his force in expletives or loudness of speech he put it into the quality of his tone. And he didn't have the slightest difficulty in communicating his desires through that medium. When he wanted men to jump, they jumped!

The light question in Greeley will never be solved until the municipality owns its own plant. While this is a blunt statement, it is also a plain fact—Greeley Progressive.

The same truth applies to Colorado Springs.

E. P. Costigan is sure making the operator squeam—Greeley Progressive. As the Progressive speaks for the farmers of Weld county, it is evident some of them, at least, know what Costigan is doing, and why he's doing it. Tom Blackwell of Hotchkiss Times.

But Costigan stands for the right of the state to stop labor trouble—and for the right of the state to operate its own coal mines. And farmers are for both of those things:

The light question in Greeley will never be solved until the municipality owns its own plant. While this is a blunt statement, it is also a plain fact—Greeley Progressive.

The London Times calls Lloyd George a liar. They have some policies even in old England.

Millions for Interstate roads, but not an extra dollar for the army, although it may be called upon for active service in Mexico, Canada, to be the policy of the Democratic majority in congress—New York Sun.

The road money can be used to reward political favorites; the army money can't. Surely the Sun must appreciate that great truth.

LESTER R. STEWART AND MISS PHILLIPS MARRIED

Wedding of Springs Man in Clinton, Mo., Kept Secret Until Yesterday Will Live in East

Lester R. Stewart of 15 North Corona street, assistant manager of the Pikes Peak club, and Miss One Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Phillips of Clinton, Mo., were married Monday, February 14, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. L. Parrish of Kansas City, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home in Clinton.

Stewart came to Colorado Springs yesterday to arrange business matters preparatory to making his home in Missouri. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart first met in this city last year, when Miss Phillips, together with her parents, was spending the summer season here. Their marriage was kept secret from friends of the bride for several days and it was not until yesterday that Stewart's friends here learned of it.

Pitman Boy's Estate to Be Administered in El Paso County

Upon his return to this city from Oklahoma, O. P. Grimes, guardian of Robert Pitman, Jr., a minor Indian, said yesterday that the personal estate of the boy has been removed from Oklahoma to El Paso county. The removal follows a legal battle staged in the courts of Colorado and Oklahoma, which extended over a period of several years. The estate will be administered by Grimes under the direction of the local county court.

The Pitman boy has a residence in Colorado Springs, and lived here for several years. He has been spending most of his time with his father on a ranch near Paonia. He is now a guest at the Alta Vista hotel with his father and stepmother. The personal estate is valued at approximately $150,000, and the income is about $20,000 a year. Real estate valued at $150,000, which is located in Oklahoma, will continue to be administered there by an Oklahoma guardian.

Mr. Grimes was appointed guardian for the boy by Judge John E. Little of the county court, January 14, 1910. A few days later he made application in the county court of Tulsa, Okla., to remove the personal estate to this county. The application was denied, and Grimes appealed to the district court. There the matter was held up until March, 1913, when the application was granted.

The Oklahoma guardian then applied to the supreme court. In July, 1913, an application was filed in the supreme court of Oklahoma by the attorney for the Creek nation and the father of the boy, asking for the removal of the Oklahoma guardian, who was charged with misappropriation of funds. The supreme court ordered the removal of the guardian, November 14, 1913.

Grimes went to Oklahoma early last month and filed an application in the supreme court asking that the appeal from the district court be dismissed, as the Oklahoma filing the appeal had been dismissed. The application was granted and the order of the district court removing the estate became effective.

The personal estate of young Pitman consists of a large amount of cash which has accumulated from oil lands, notes, and mortgages on real estate. Many of the notes mature during the coming year.

BROTHERHOOD DISCUSSES COMING OF BILLY SUNDAY

The brotherhood class of the First Baptist church met last night at the church to make plans for the coming of Evangelist Billy Sunday and to consider the different kinds of work to be taken up by the class. Addresses were made by R. M. McClinton, teacher of the class, and by the Rev. F. C. Trueax of the Mesa Baptist church at Pueblo. Short talks were also made by Thomas J. Fisher, Judge W. P. Kinney, T. F. Langford and the Rev. J. H. Spencer. It was decided to hold regular meetings in addition to the Sunday class meetings, at which addresses will be made and various branches of the work taken up.

QUICK WORK BY POLICE LANDS SUSPECT IN JAIL

Dr. H. W. Hoyer, Charged With Passing Check on Jewelry Firm, Arrested for Springs Department

Quick work on the part of the local police resulted yesterday afternoon in the arrest at Denver of Dr. H. W. Hoyer, alias R. E. Martin, charged with passing a worthless $50 check on the Hamilton Jewelry company of this city. It is claimed that Dr. Hoyer purchased a $50 ring, tendered the check and received $30 in addition to the ring.

The check was received by the jewelry store at 3:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was drawn on the Oakland Savings bank of Oakland, Cal., and the bank was wired as to its value. Word was received that the paper was worthless.

The police were notified immediately and detectives traced the man to the Denver & Rio Grande depot where it was learned that he had boarded the 3:45 train for Denver. The Denver police were notified in time to apprehend Hoyer as he left the train there. The police believe that Dr. Hoyer has a long criminal record. He will be brought here today. According to the officer, Dr. Hoyer had picked out a $200 diamond ring which he told the jeweler he would call and pay for to-day.

COLONIAL COMMITTEE TO BROADEN SCOPE OF WORK

George W. Martin, Chairman, Says Committee Hopes to Have Entire State Cooperating This Year

Plans for meeting with the commercial bodies of each city of the state for the purpose of working up a cooperative spirit for the good of all were discussed at a meeting of the All-Colonial committee at the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday. The committee is composed of three members each from Colorado Springs, Denver and Pueblo, and practically all were present at the meeting yesterday.

George W. Martin, chairman, of Denver, said in a speech at the meeting yesterday, "It is the intention of the committee to get into personal communication with all commercial bodies of the state."

"We have many plans under way for the coming year, but they all tend toward the establishment of that spirit of cooperation of town with town for the whole state in the same degree that it now exists between Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo. To do this it is the intention of the committee to get into personal communication with all commercial bodies of the state."

The police were notified immediately and detectives traced the man to the Denver & Rio Grande depot where it was learned that he had boarded the 3:45 train for Denver.

The Denver police were notified in time to apprehend Hoyer as he left the train there.

He will be brought here today.

According to the officer, Dr. Hoyer had picked out a $200 diamond ring which he told the jeweler he would call and pay for to-day.

The police were notified immediately and detectives traced the man to the Denver & Rio Grande depot where it was learned that he had boarded the 3:45 train for Denver.

The Denver police were notified in time to apprehend Hoyer as he left the train there.

that which arises from a sense of knowing that he did what he could to make his home city a fairer, happier place.

Twenty-one years ago, Mr. Hall, when on his way to California in quest of health, stopped off for a brief stay in our charming city. He stayed but a few days, and he has loved her ever since. As soon as his home was established, lover-like, he began to labor for her welfare, and there has never been, from that day to this, a listless in his devoted service to promote her interests. The similitude of his love for his home city is shown by the fact that he puts her care and interests above those of his own, for I believe it is common knowledge among all those who have had to do with city affairs, that when they went to Mr. Hall with any matter of city concern, he was always ready to lay aside his own work, however pressing and important, to give his time and attention in behalf of the city. No other citizen has shown greater love and loyalty to our city.

Elected Without Campaigning.

And he was not only willing to serve, but he proved himself capable of high-class service in the interest of the city. These facts became so generally known that, eight years ago, he was elected chief executive of this city, while he was temporarily absent on a visit in the east. This resulted on the part of the citizens of Colorado Springs to show their appreciation of the services he had rendered, and was able to render them, will be more fully comprehended when it is remembered that at the time of his election political parties dominated, and he was known to be affiliated with the party he represented in the minors, and that he was elected without putting forth a single effort in his own behalf.

Mr. Hall accepted the office tendered him by a grateful citizenship, although it meant great financial and business loss to him to do so, and he discharged the duties of his office faithfully, fearlessly and efficiently. The major portion of the ordinances of the city now in force bear the impress of his clear, concise, comprehensive statement of municipal law. The city today reaps the benefit of better and cheaper street lighting as a result of his administration, and a suit for cheap power for a municipal lighting plant commenced while he was mayor and has recently been decided in favor of the city by the supreme court. Every department of the city still benefits from methods adopted while he was in office.

His experience as a mayor, and his continued close connection with and interest in civic affairs after his re-

Mr. Hall is not a Colorado Springs, but from Colorado. A citizen he has been born to the state, and can only claim that we know him before he broke into the national league.

"We know nothing but good of him, and have every reason to believe that he will give to the nation that same patience and intelligence which has characterized him every act here."

President Slocum emphasized that characteristic in Mr. Hall which loves truth and service rather than gain. He declared that Mr. Hall possessed that love of truth and integrity which makes for true manhood and noble citizenship. According to Dr. Slocum, Hall's work will be a part of this city's assets for years to come.

George W. Martin spoke of the honor brought to this city, the state and the west by Mr. Hall's appointment. He pointed out that it was particularly fortunate that a man from this section of the country be on the commission because of the special conditions which confront railroads here, which conditions are very little understood by men of the east or any other part of the United States. Mr. Hall will be acquainted with these conditions or will make himself so before leaving said Mr. Martin.

The remarks of Mr. Hall concluded the evening. With words half of prophecy, half of gratitude for the kindness and honor shown him, he made what was probably his last talk before Colorado Springs citizens for some time to come.

In looking into the future he declared that the Chamber of Commerce idea is to go far. The fact that the men of Colorado Springs are united as a whole and pulling together, through the Chamber of Commerce, he maintained, the secret of this city's success and growth and its most valuable asset. Along this line he pointed out the inestimable worth of the cooperation to be found here between the city officials and the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce idea is to grow to such an extent that the All-Colorado committee, which is already well established, will eventually become a state chamber of commerce and serve the same purpose as the United States chamber of commerce is now doing for the nation.

Like Attending Own Funeral.

In referring to the honor conferred upon him by the speakers and those present, Mr. Hall said:

"This situation is very embarrassing. It is as though one in a trance attends his own funeral. One thing, however, gives me great satisfaction, and that is the evident sincere good feeling and a disposition to look favorably upon what one has tried to do. It leads me to take new confidence in myself and to believe that perhaps qualities have been developed in me here which have made me capable of performing the new task set before me.

"It is not without some doubt, some qualms, that I go to my new duties. I realize the great responsibility cast upon me, and I wonder if some blunder has not been made in selecting me for the task.

"You have spoken much here tonight of this city's debt to me. Now I wish to reverse the order and tell you of the debt I owe to Colorado Springs. This climate has restored my health. I came here almost an invalid 21 years ago. It is here that I have gained my training in municipal affairs and have developed that idea that there are some things better worth doing than merely making money. I owe much to Colorado Springs and will always think of it as my home."

Always Assisted City.

Ever since the adoption of the charter, Mr. Hall has, by wise counsel, advice and active cooperation, aided those charged with administering city affairs. I wish in this public manner to acknowledge my very great indebtedness to Mr. Hall for the continued assistance which he gave me while I was attorney, and during my administration as mayor. I wish I could tell you how great a service he has rendered the city in the manner mentioned, but I cannot, because the number of times and ways in which he has rendered helpful service is so great as to be beyond the power of detailed enumeration. But let me advert briefly to some of the more important matters in which he has rendered valuable assistance.

He aided in construing, interpreting and making effective all the provisions of the charter, he supervised the negotiations between the city and the Empire Power company, and safeguarded the interests of the city; he prepared the bills for the city grant for the watershed on Pikes Peak; he visited Washington in the interest of this bill and learned the attitude of the cabinet officers toward it, and what modifications had to be made in it before they would approve it; he was instant, in season and out of season, in securing the influence of prominent men at home and in other parts of the state and nation to induce congress to pass the bill and now he is engaged in trying to secure from the present administration a liberal grant of these lands than that heretofore obtained. He was one of the most powerful factors in bringing about a settlement of the streetcar trouble in our city last spring. He supervised the ordinance submitted to the people for refunding the city's water bonds and drafted the ordinances which provide for the issuance of such bonds, making them primarily then on the revenues of the electric department as provided in the charter. He assisted in devising a plan by which one issue of these 4 per cent bonds was sold at par without commission, thereby saving the city many thousands of dollars.

Time forbids further enumeration of specific acts of helpful civic service. Suffice it to say of him that he has taken a helpful part in whatever has been done for the advantage of his home city during his long residence in it. And in large measure, it may truly be said of him as he is said of our lamented townsmen, E. W. Giddings, that of his public service let me here say that the wisdom, the knowledge of men, and grasp of affairs which brought him success in business were gained without stint to furtherance of the common welfare.

This man, who was a home chief among us because of his services, is about to leave us. How can we get along without him? Who can replace him? Colorado Springs can ill afford to lose him. But he has been called to a larger public service. We must not be selfish. Let us not think of our loss but of the nation's gain. Let us bid him godspeed to that field where the entire country may have such splendid service as he has given our beloved city.

In Big League, Says Spurgeon.

Following the mayor W. H. Spurgeon took up the task of making Mr. Hall appreciate just how highly his associates and the city in general esteem him.

"Mr. Hall undoes his salary as a member of the Interstate Commerce commission inadequate," he said, "all we ask is that he put Colorado Springs first on his lecture tour routing." The remark brought laughter even from the supporters of Mr. Davis.

To the nation, cont'd.

What the Press Agencies Say

VAUDEVILLE AT OPERA HOUSE

Another enormous crowd packed Tejon street in front of the Opera House last night to watch the Great LeRoy perform another of his daring feats while suspended in midair. Last night the man made his escape from a straitjacket while dangling by the feet from the end of a rope 15 feet above the heads of the throng. The stunt was even more spectacular than that of the night before, and drew great applause from the crowd.

Tonight at 7 o'clock the great escape artist will appear in his last free performance in front of the Opera house. Just what kind of a stunt he will perform this time has not yet been decided. However, he can do almost anything with locks and irons, and his performance promises to be as thrilling as the two preceding ones.

Today marks the last day of the exceptionally good vaudeville bill at the Opera house. "Smiley" LeRoy, who will perform some new feats at the three performances, the Six Musical Spillers, the McCall trio and Walker and Claremont will provide a most pleasing hour of entertainment. The Spillers have been scoring some of the greatest hits of the season with their ragtime singing and playing. The act is one that cannot but please anyone, whether or not he or she happens to be musically inclined. The McCall trio, two dancing girls and a comedian, offer a pleasing act, introducing some clever dancing, and Walker and Claremont have a novelty operatic act that is very good.

There will be a complete change of bill tomorrow.

T. M. C. A. STAR COURSE

Dr. Thomas E. Green, the noted lecturer, will arrive in Colorado Springs Thursday morning and will speak at the Burns theater Thursday night. His subject will be "The Key to the Twentieth Century." Here is what others say about him:

"I am strongly impressed by the force and beauty of your address. Your ringing words are such as cannot fail to instill patriotism in the heart of every one who hears you." George Dewey.

"I am glad to send you the passage from my address which you request. I am not only willing that you should use it, but gratified that you approve it, and that it will have in its repetition the addition of your eloquence." John Hay.

"I have been acquainted for 40 years with the best orators of the state of Iowa. They have come and gone like the seasons. I regard Dr. Thomas E. Green as among the foremost in the history of the state." James Wilson.

"I congratulate the nation that you have taken the lecture platform for your field. I know no one better fitted in every way to instruct and inspire." William R. Allison.

"A masterful presentation of a most interesting subject. Such an address is worthy of an honored place in every library in the United States." Jonathan P. Dolliver.

"I have heard Dr. Thomas E. Green on the lecture platform and I am the richer because I heard him. He is a master of the platform and possess in a rare degree the ability to instruct."

NEWS FROM EVERY CORNER OF THE WORLDCLARK GRIFFITH HAS ONLY TEAM
WITH CHANCE TO HEAD ATHLETICSOne More Good Pitcher Will Give Senators
Strength to Make Connie Mack Hit
High Spots to Win Flag

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—In scanning the American league prospects as they now stand it is hard to see anything but the Athletics. The Senators no doubt must be considered. St. Louis, after Johnson—not inferring that you Johnson the Senators are not big ball club than the Browns, and they are by several blocks, but Walter Johnson is just about 50 percent of the defensive strength of any organization that he is associated with. Give Griffith another top-notch pitcher to help out Joe Bushling, he should do just as good, if not better work this year than he did last, and Johnson and the Senators would be in a position to make the Athletics a Highland fling all along the pennant highway. But without this we pitiful it is hard to see how any department of American league players as they are now distributed can in the onward rush of Edward Collyer, J. Fruin, Bayard Charles Bennett, Joseph Lepin, Edward Phank, and one half a dozen others whom Mr. Jack has imbued with a little useful baseball knowledge.

Naps No Stronger
Cleveland won't be any stronger in it was last season, and probably not as strong. It was fortunate to catch as well as it did, considering the style of game it played. It could not be surprising, however, if the Boston Red Sox show up in the same form that caught the Athletics napping in 1911, and carried them through to the world's championship. Of all the teams, however, Washington has the best chance of overthrowing the Athletics. If their throne is to be pulled from under them during the coming season, the Senators pack a lot of baseball ability around with them, and if they can get away a little better than they did last season they will make quite a fuss. If they had started like they finished last year, Connie Mack would have needed every ounce of strength in a final drive to pull through.

To be or not to be, is the question. Bring it to us, and it will be cleaned as it should be.

ENGLISH ENDURANCE RUN

Following the example of American motorcyclists in staging the San Diego-Phoenix classic English riders held a competitive run on January 31, which proved a real endurance test. Every mile of the course tried to the limit the endurance of rider and machine. Mud-covered roads had to be negotiated and three water splashes were included in the course, one of which came above the spindles of the motorcyclists. Also a hill climb was held in which the riders were permitted to use only low gear.

Only One Group
Seeking Control
of Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Only one syndicate has been left in the field of those who sought control of the Chicago National League baseball club. The bid of $700,000 offered by the Behan group for 51 per cent of the Cub stock caused the other two syndicates to assume a waiting attitude until Charles P. Taft, owner of the majority of the stock, had passed on the Behan proposition. It was said that a committee which proposed to put John P. Harding at the head of the club would have a representative in Cincinnati tomorrow, however. The Pugh-Thompson-McCulloch group has withdrawn from active participation, Charles A. Metzlich announced.

Louis J. Behan, who is handling the offer of the men who compose one syndicate, left for Cincinnati tonight. The Federal league will not open its playing season until April 25 and the stands and grounds in most of its cities will be ready by that time, it was said, today by Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago club.

Christy Mathewson

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—I have received the Federal's offer, and I will give it careful and serious consideration. Christy Mathewson said tonight in regard to the proposition made him to manage the Brooklyn Federal League to me at his own terms.

It is not only the salary. There are a number of other considerations which enter into the matter. He stated, I will think the matter over carefully before deciding.

Mathewson did not state what the considerations were that inclined him to ponder the Federal offer, nor did he say how long it would be before his decision would be made.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—Billy Murray of Sacramento defeated the veteran middleweight, Leo Houck of Philadelphia, today in the fourteenth round of what was to have been a 20-round bout. Houck stood helpless in his own corner, staggering according to reports and dazed as a volley of right and left swings to the jaw when the referee gave Murray the decision. Technically the result counts as knockout.

NEW YORK MARKET

CHICAGO MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Trade actions in stocks today were the smallest of the year. From opening to close, quotations of the important stocks barely varied. London cabled lower prices for some members of the international group and placed a few selling orders here at the opening, principally in steel. Bear traders made experimental short sales, and prices dropped slightly. But the demand was sufficient to prevent a substantial decline, and the market came to a halt. Some of the lower priced shares developed weakness, but the representative issues were held virtually at a dead level.

The railroad list stocks of the Gould group were heaviest. Both issues of Wabash and of Denver & Rio Grand stocks reached the year's low figures. Missouri Pacific was heavy. Rock Island, common and preferred, touched new low records. Wabash also appeared in several industries which recently have moved widely, including Railway Steel Spring and Mexican Petroleum. The ungrateful attitude of the British government in the face of the Benton affair in Mexico deplored the bears of a weapon.

Lehigh Valley, the first important railway to make its February report, showed a decrease of $408,000 in net revenues. This was offset by the forthcoming statement of idle freight cars, showing a decrease in surplus equipment. The bond market moved irregularly. Total sales per value, $2,375,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Nature of the Courts

Roy Carey and Frank Banborn, alleged to have stolen a suit case from D. J. Neims of Pueblo, were convicted in Justice Dunnington's court yesterday and sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and fined $50 each. They were charged also with the theft of a bottle of whisky and on this count each was fined $1.

John Hobbs pleaded guilty yesterday before Justice Madden to stealing two rabbits from D. S. Truhaine and was fined $1 and costs.

Lynn Guy was fined $1 in police court yesterday for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk. Ed O'Bryant, arrested for vagrancy, was fined $10 and committed to jail.

The suit of Camilla Delapena against the National Slavonic Society of the United States to collect $1,500 alleged to be due for insurance, is being tried before a jury in the district court.

The Foster Lumber company filed suit in the county court yesterday to collect $51.85 from W. J. Hall, alleged to be due on a promissory note.

Mrs. Mary Miller was granted a divorce from Frank Miller, a ranchman living near Falcon, Colo., in the district court yesterday. The couple were married at Granger, Colo., in 1888. They have five children. The custody of the two minor daughters, aged 8 and 10 years, was granted to Mrs. Miller.

A TELEPHONE POSTCARD

From Popular Mechanics: The postmaster general is considering the adoption of a new form of postcard, which will show not only the ordinary street address of the recipient, but his telephone number.

Upon its arrival at destination, clerk would immediately call up the telephone number and ask for the person to whom the card is addressed and read the message, after which the card would be delivered in the usual way. The card would bear a special stamp, costing five cents, and would have preference over other first-class mail matter in the same manner.
